NORMAL IN GOOD FORM.

First Foot Ball of Season Attracts a Large Crowd.

The University of Pennsylvania foot ball team arrived in Bloomsburg at noon on Tuesday from Eagles Mere where they had been in training for two weeks previous. At 3:15 in the afternoon, they lined up against Normal on Athletic Field, for the first game of the season. A large crowd was present. From every part of the field, Normal's colors, maroon and yellow waved proudly in the breeze, while now and then could be seen Pennsylvania's red and blue. Never in Athletic Field's history as a play ground, has there a more enthusiastic throng of people assembled upon it, than on Tuesday. Everybody appeared to be happy.

We are not going to give a detailed account of the play, but will say that the work of Normal was excellent. When it is considered that the team is largely composed of green men, and that they had never played together before, it was truly wonderful.

While Pennsylvania has been practicing for two weeks, this was their first real test of the season. The general opinion is that the result reflects very little credit on the Pennsy eleven. Superior team work, acquired during their two weeks training, aided by some clever fake plays, carried the Red and Blue to victory. Individually, they could lay no claim to superiority, but as before stated in team work they excelled and carried off the honors, if a score of 16 to 0 can be called an honor for Pennsylvania.

In the Philadelphia Inquirer, a staff correspondent, says:

"In thirty-five minutes of play against State Normal School eleven here this afternoon the University of Pennsylvania team scored 16 points and only missed being scored on by six inches. It was a disappointing exhibition by the Quakers.

Slow playing that made the coaches nervous, almost to distraction, characterized the Red and Blue eleven's work during the entire game, and fumbles were frequent and costly. Weissenfluh being the chief offender, and the defense, on end runs, especially on the right side, was not as strong as it has been in practice against the second team. It was on a run around right end in the first half that Captain Marcy got away from the entire Quaker team and had he not stepped six inches over the side line would have scored a touchdown."

Following is the line up and summary:

Bloomsburg.		Pennsylvania.

The Injunction Case.

The case against the County Commissioners to prevent them from issuing the new county bonds amounting to $96,000 to J. N. Thompson, cashier of the Farmers' National Bank was heard before Judge Little on Thursday. Counsel for plaintiff made an effort to have the case continued on account of the illness of Commissioner Krickbaum, a witness, but the judge ordered the case to be proceeded with. The evidence of A. Z. Schoch and Commissioners Kitchen and Fisher was taken, as was also some documentary evidence from the minute books of the Commissioners office. Fred Ikeler argued the case for the plaintiff and Grant Herring for the defendants. The Judge took the papers and will render his decision later.

SUICIDE ENDS FAMILY STRIFE.

Domestic Infelicity, A Quarrel, Arrest, then Death by His Own Hand.

Harry Sutton took his own life at his home in Nescopeck Tuesday morning, by hanging himself to a rafter in the attic. Sutton was about twenty-four years of age, and had been married about a year. He and his wife had never mated very well, quarrels were of almost daily occurrence. It appears that the primary cause for the infelicity, was an undue desire for strong drink on the part of the husband. Monday evening, after drinking heavily he had gone home. His wife took him to task, and a quarrel ensued, with the result that each had the other arrested. Sutton was locked up and his wife was taken to the home of the constable. The next morning they were arraigned before the Chief Burgess for a hearing. There was no evidence against the woman and she was allowed to go free. Sutton was held for Court. He was allowed to go to his home, for the purpose of securing John De Haven, his landlord, and who lived next door, to go on his bail bond. It appears that Mrs. Sutton was at the house when he reached there, and was packing her goods, with a view of a separation.

Sutton called at the DeHaven home, but finding his landlord out, he returned to his own home and went up stairs.

The constable was waiting for him to return to the office of the Burgess. He finally became impatient, and started after him. He went to the house and called up stairs but received no answer. Upon investigation, he found the dead body of his prisoner hanging from a ratter in the attic. He had placed the rope about his neck, and leaped out into the stairway. His spinal cord was broken.

Squire Miller hastily empanelled a jury, and a verdict of suicide was returned.

PARENTS.

Now the homes are quiet again. The little people are away attending to their studies in the school-room. We parents are hoping that much good may be done for our boys and girls. Let us reason together and use a little judgment on our part. We all know how much better we feel and how much more we can do if some neighbor or friend encourages us with a little praise. It makes our hearts beat with the determination of a greater endeavor. It thrills us with a new hope, even a new life. We are happy.

I know that much of the success of our boys and girls, who are in the school-room to-day, depends on the honest encouragement which we hold out to them. It depends on the sustaining help which we may give that teacher who is laboring so earnestly to lead aright the children we have sent from our homes to her for instruction. Therefore, it is our duty to act our part well, so that the children of to-day may stand head and shoulders above us in knowledge and manliness when they become men and women.

We must bear in mind that teachers are human. They do not belong to the angelic band of ideals; but the work which they are trying to perform is of such a nature that it ranks among the very foremost of the callings of mankind. As they are human we must expect them to do some things differing from the way which we would do them. When these differences happen, do not rise up in wrathful dignity and say in the presence of the children hard words about that teacher. Sleep over the trouble, dream over it, pray over it and then, after properly cooling off, go secretly and talk it over, with the teacher.

Do not allow the children to gossip about the school. Be sure that you know that your children have prepared their lessons properly. Be sure that you get acquainted with your teacher before she has taught long. Be her honest faithful friend. Be sure that you do visit the school often; not to find fault, but to encourage that which is good. Help to raise your own school so that it may be one of the best in the county. Let us see what good we can do this winter.

In Jail at Sunbury.

Calvin R. Kressler has strayed in the pervert and foolish path and as a result of his misdoings he is now in jail at Sunbury. It appears that he has been acting the roll of a Judas Iscariot for some time past, but not until Monday morning was his treachery discovered. On the night before he and Miss Mary Walters, a girl of eighteen years, walked into Hotel Zerbe at Sunbury and asked for a room. After registering as man and wife they were given a room. The next morning Mr. Zerbe asked Kressler if they were married and he said no. The two evidently anticipating trouble hurried out of the hotel but the proprietor made use of the telephone and securing an officer had them arrested.

It has since developed that Kressler had been having considerable trouble at home and that his wife had sworn out a warrant for his arrest Saturday night but he could not be found. Kressler's friends are dumbfounded at his conduct. Until very lately he had been looked upon as a man of correct habits, but drink is supposed to have led to his downfall.

Supper Netted $120.

The chicken and flannel cake supper given in the basement of the Methodist church last Thursday night was an eminently successful affair and netted $120. The matter of serving the supper was entirely in charge of some of the young men of the congregation and their gracefulness, promptness and very obliging manners, called forth much praise, especially from the ladies.

Appreciated the Hospitality.

The Secretary of the Centennial executive committee received a letter a few days ago from the Eagle Hose Company of Pittston, extending thanks for the $20 prize awarded them in the hose contest, and expressing appreciation for the good time the members of the company had while they were the guests of the Winona Fire Company during the Centennial.

Council Transacts but Little Business Friday Night.

There was very little done at Friday night's meeting of the Town Council. The principal object of the session was to consider the matter of extending this year's tax duplicate. Each member gave expression to his views regarding the extension, after which it was decided to prolong the time fifteen days.

The Columbia & Montour Electric Railway Company asked permission to put a switch on Seventh street above Park. The permit was granted and a committee composed of, Messrs Cox, Reimard and Kashner was appointed to locate same.

A petition complaining of the bad condition of Chrisman and First streets, and requesting that they be cobbled was presented. Referred to Committee on Highways. Report to be made at the next meeting.

Mr. Reimard stated that he could make no report regarding the canal as Mr. Brown, the town engineer, had not been able to go with him to locate the drain.

Solicitor Chrisman was instructed to look up several titles in order to see who owned properties where pavements are needed.

The supremacy of the Shamokin and Bloomsburg Elk base ball teams is still undecided. The two nines made an effort to determine the question at Athletic Park Saturday afternoon but after seven innings of the hardest kind of play, the score was a tie 8 to 8, and both sides agreed to quit. Among the star players on the Bloomsburg team was brother Randall of the Catawissa News Item. He fielded his position in Lajole fashion, and at the bat, well, he hit the ball so hard once that it didn't come back to earth for about five minutes, and then the players had difficulty in finding it. He could very easily have made a circuit of the bases, but he didn't want the run to count that way. The other players, all of whom distinguished themselves were: John Conway, Clark Sheep, Chas. Vincent, Alex Cohen, Chas. B. Ent, Dan Hummel, Tom Hennessy and John Reighard.

PRESIDENT RETURNS

Goes Under the Knife at Indianapolis.

ABSCESS RESULT OF RECENT ACCIDENT

The Bruise Received at Pittsfield Proved to Be More Serious Than at First Reported—Case Is Not Alarming.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Sept. 24.—President Roosevelt has been forced to abandon the remainder of his trip to the northwest and to undergo a surgical operation. The accident which befell him at Pittsfield, Mass., when a trolley car crashed into his carriage is responsible for the sudden ending of the president's trip and his being compelled to undergo the operation. In that accident his knee was badly bruised, and an abscess soon formed which gave him some trouble, but not enough at first to interfere with his plans.

The hardships of his present trip, however, aggravated the trouble, and Dr. Lung, his official physician, together with Dr. Richardson, who accompanied him on the trip, thought it advisable to consult other doctors. Accordingly Drs. Oliver and Cook were called to the Columbia club, where the president was entertained at luncheon. They decided that an operation was necessary and that it should be performed at once. The decision was arrived at before luncheon, but was not allowed to interfere with that meal. At the conclusion of the luncheon Secretary Cortelyou issued the following statement to the press:

"As a result of the trolley accident at Pittsfield, Mass., the president received several serious bruises. One of these on the left leg between the knee and the ankle has developed into a small abscess. The president is entirely well otherwise and has continued to meet the several engagements of his itinerary, but in view of the continuance of the abscess and out of an abundance of caution Drs. Oliver and Cook of Indianapolis were requested to meet Dr. Lung, the president's surgeon, at Indianapolis, Dr. Richardson of Washington being also one of the number.

"In the opinion of the doctors the trouble necessitates an operation, which they think should be performed at once at St. Vincent's hospital, in this city. As after the operation the president will require entire rest, probably for at least ten days or two weeks, it has been necessary to cancel all the remaining engagements of his trip, and he will go directly from Indianapolis to Washington.

"The physicians say that the case is not in any way serious and that there is no danger whatever. This statement is made so that no false rumors may disturb the people and that they may be authoritatively advised of the exact nature of the case."

The announcement came as a startling surprise. The president is in such good health otherwise that it was hard to believe he was about to submit to an operation. He had delivered an address earlier in the day before the Spanish-American War Veterans and also had addressed the citizens of Indianapolis from the balcony of the Columbia club. He was the picture of health, and many comments were made during the early part of the trip upon how well he looked. It was noticed, however, that he walked with a slight limp.

The president was driven from the clubhouse to St. Vincent's hospital, where he was taken to a private operating room. He was accompanied by Secretary Cortelyou, Assistant Secretaries Loeb and Barnes, Governor Durbin and Senators Beveridge and Fairbanks. It was about 4:15 o'clock when the doctors began the operation. It was performed by Dr. John Oliver, assisted by Dr. Cook.

The operation was finished and the president was removed to his room. He did not take anaesthetics. The president is cheerful.

The hospital was guarded by a detachment of twenty soldiers, all of whom served in the Spanish-American war, under the command of Colonel Russell B. Harrison. Colonel Harrison was instructed to arrange with the sisters in charge of the hospital that no information as to the president should be given out by telephone.

At the conclusion of the operation the physicians authorized the following statement:

"As a result of the traumatism (bruise) received in the trolley accident at Pittsfield, Mass., there was found to be a circumscribed collection of perfectly pure serum in the middle third of the left anterior tibial region, the sac containing about two ounces, which was removed.

"The indications are that the president should make a speedy recovery. It is absolutely imperative, however, that he should remain quiet and refrain from using the leg. The trouble is not serious."

At 7:45 o'clock last evening the president, accompanied by members of his immediate party and escorted by a company of infantry, was carried on a stretcher from St. Vincent's hospital to his car, and the train left a few minutes later for Washington.

The president's train will run on a slow schedule of about thirty miles an hour and is due to arrive at Washington at 6:30 o'clock this evening. He will be taken to 222 Jackson place, where the temporary executive offices are located.

President Roosevelt was the guest of Indianapolis for four hours. The special train bearing the presidential party arrived shortly before noon. The party was driven directly to Tomlinson hall, where he addressed the Spanish-American War Veterans now holding their annual reunion in this city.

Immediately after the speech at Tomlinson hall the presidential party entered carriages and was escorted by a military parade to the Columbia club, where, after a brief rest, the party sat down to luncheon.

When the president appeared on the balcony accompanied by Senator Fairbanks, who introduced him to a crowd of 15,000 or more gathered around the Soldiers and Sailors' monument, the enthusiasm was unbounded. It was several minutes before the president could speak. His remarks were necessarily brief. He congratulated the people of Indiana on the completion of the great monument erected in commemoration of the soldiers and sailors who had given their lives for the preservation of the Union.

His speech in the main was eulogistic of the dead heroes of the civil and Spanish-American wars.

President In Detroit.

DETROIT, Mich., Sept. 23.—President Roosevelt's two days' visit to Detroit came to an end last evening at the conclusion of a banquet tendered him in Light Guard armory by the Spanish War Veterans, the opening of whose third annual reunion he attended in the morning. It was a brilliant event. Nearly 800 men sat at tables on the floor of the big armory, and the galleries were crowded to their utmost capacity.

When the president rose to begin his address, which was the first of the evening, he received an ovation. The men on the floor stood up and cheered again and again, while the clapping of hands from the gallery was like the crackle of musketry.

In the afternoon President Roosevelt participated in and afterward reviewed the military parade, which was the greatest demonstration of the sort ever seen in the city, with the exception of the G. A. R. parade during the national encampment here eleven years ago. Never were such crowds seen in the streets, and never was a man given a greater popular ovation in this city than the president received.

It is estimated that more than 150,000 people were jammed into the streets along which the parade passed.

WAR AGAINST MOROS.

Position at Macin Too Strong For Present Attack.

MANILA, Sept. 24.—Captain John J. Pershing of the Fifteenth infantry, operating against the Moros in the island of Mindanao, has found the Moro position at Macin, island of Mindanao, to be strong and has delayed his attack on it. He must throw a pontoon bridge across a swamp and possibly receive re-enforcements before engaging the enemy.

The captain made a reconnoissance close to the Moro position and found a fort on an elevation close to the lake shore, flanked by swamps, virtually making the promontory an island.

The Americans built rafts preparatory to attacking the Moros from the lake and then decided to bridge the swamp and make an attack from all sides.

The sultans of Macin regard the position as impregnable and have refused to treat with Captain Pershing.

Brigadier General Samuel S. Sumner will send the Moros an ultimatum demanding peace and the return of stolen property. If his demands are rejected, the place will be assaulted.

Captain Pershing has carefully examined the position and its surroundings and is confident of his ability to capture it without serious losses.

PEARY RETURNS.

Explorer Unsuccessfully Sought the North Pole For Four Years.

SYDNEY, N. S., Sept. 19.—The arctic relief ship Windward, with Lieutenant and Mrs. Peary on board, has arrived here. Lieutenant Peary, after having pushed into the arctic regions for four years, comes back again without having discovered the pole. He, however, went farther north than ever before.

Although having reached a higher latitude than ever before on this last voyage, Lieutenant Peary refused to make public the exact point where his journey ended.

Lieutenant Peary is recovering from an accident to one of his legs, from which he suffered last winter. He is slightly lame, although this is not especially noticeable.

The Windward's cargo includes many cases of relics from the north and a number of live animals for Central park, New York city.

Stratton Millions For Charity.

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., Sept. 22.—According to the will of the late Winfield Scott Stratton, who amassed his great fortune in mining, all except $400,000 of his fourteen million dollar estate will go to charity. The will has been filed here for probate. It is dated Aug. 5, 1902. Isaac Henry Stratton, the only son, is left $50,000 upon condition that he does not contest the will. The son never lived with his father. Mr. Stratton was divorced from his wife immediately after the birth of the boy.

La Soufriere Speaks Again.

KINGSTOWN, St. Vincent, Sept. 22.—There was an eruption of La Soufriere at midnight Thursday, but no loss of life. A peculiarity of this eruption is found in the fact that no dust or scoria was emitted by the volcano. Flames were seen flickering above the crater, and the sight was accompanied by internal and thunderlike explosions.

Heard Her Own Funeral Sermon.

PADUCAH, Ky., Sept. 20.—Caroline Bacon, aged seventy-six, of this county believes she is nearing the grave and has had her pastor preach her funeral sermon so she could get the benefit of it.

DISORDERLY MINERS

Troops May Be Needed In Wyoming Valley.

LAWLESSNESS ON THE INCREASE.

Lackawanna Region Becomes More Quiet Following Arrival of Thirteenth Regiment—Soldiers Called to Lebanon.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Sept. 24.—If the lawless outbreaks in the Wyoming region continue, Sheriff Jacobs will undoubtedly follow the example of Sheriff Schadt of Lackawanna county and call upon Governor Stone for troops. Several squads of deputy sheriffs have been kept busy suppressing disorders. Last evening five carpenters employed at the Conyham mine of the Delaware and Hudson company while on their way home were held up by a crowd of men and boys. The carpenters discharged their revolvers in the air, which brought a large number of coal and iron police to their rescue. The officers fired a volley into the air, and the crowd fled. A stray bullet from one of the deputy's guns lodged in the shoulder of a boy named James Roland, who was at work in the yard of the Sheldon Axle works, some distance away. A deputy named Joseph Kessler was arrested, charged with the shooting, and was committed to jail for a hearing.

Unknown parties placed several sticks of dynamite under the house of Joseph Harrison, at Plymouth, but a timely discovery prevented the explosion.

Two nonunion workmen at Plymouth were held up and beaten. Twenty-five deputy sheriffs went to Warrior Run to quell a disturbance there in which nonunion men were attacked.

At Hughestown, near Pittston, a crowd of men derailed a train carrying a number of nonunion workers to a washery. The engine and two cars left the track, and two men sustained slight injuries. A number of coal and iron police dispersed the crowd.

TROOPS GUARD IRON MILLS.

Workmen Have Been Idle For Five Months.

HARRISBURG, Pa., Sept. 24.—General Gobin, who is in command of the troops in the hard coal strike region, has been ordered by Governor Stone to send the First battalion of the Twelfth regiment to Lebanon to assist the sheriff in preserving the peace where the iron and steel workers of the American Iron and Steel Manufacturing company have been on strike for nearly five months. The battalion, which has been on duty at Shenandoah ever since the troops were sent there, left that town at once for Lebanon in command of Colonel Clement. The troops reached Lebanon last evening.

A delegation from Lebanon called upon the governor and requested that troops be sent to that city, where rioting occurred among the strikers. After consultation with Adjutant General Stewart and Attorney General Elkin the governor ordered General Gobin to send the First battalion of the Twelfth regiment to the relief of the sheriff.

Troops Preserve Order.

SCRANTON, Pa., Sept. 24.—The calling of the Thirteenth regiment had a quieting effect upon the riotous strikers, and this section has been comparatively free of lawlessness since.

Movement of Coal.

READING, Pa., Sept. 24.—The Philadelphia and Reading Railway company brought but twenty cars of coal from the Schuylkill regions yesterday. Officials claim to be taking out a great deal more coal in the collieries of western Schuylkill county, but they say it will not be moved until the latter part of the week. Twenty cars of coal were brought down on Monday.

NEW YORK REPUBLICANS.

The State Convention Opened at Saratoga.

SARATOGA, Sept. 24.—The state Republican convention met yesterday for work incidental to the naming of a state ticket and the drafting of a platform. Outside of delegates and alternates the spectators were few.

The convention was called to order by George W. Dunn, chairman of the Republican state committee, who announced that Rev. F. L. Decker of Saratoga would offer the opening prayer. After the prayer the roll of the convention was called, and some changes were made in the list of delegates.

Chairman Dunn announced that Lemuel E. Quigg had been selected for temporary chairman. Throughout Mr. Quigg's long speech, in which he discussed the present prosperity, the Philippine question, the tariff and praised Governor Odell's administration, he received great attention, and it was punctuated with hearty rounds of applause.

The mention of Governor Odell's name in the speech caused a great outburst of applause that lasted for some minutes and which was assisted by the band playing "Hail to the Chief!" After the appointment of various committees the convention adjourned temporarily.

Tried to Kill Czar.

LONDON, Sept. 23.—In a dispatch from St. Petersburg the correspondent there of the Daily Express reports an attempt to derail the train upon which the czar traveled from Kursk. Rails were removed on the two routes over which the czar might travel. In one instance the plot was discovered, and in the other the train was wrecked. The czar reached St. Petersburg in safety.

ANOTHER BREAK OUT.

Colombian Revolution Assumes a New Aspect.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.—The Colombian revolution has broken out in a new place, according to information received at the navy department. An American fruit company transmitted to Secretary Moody a cablegram from its agent at Santa Marta, a place on the north coast of Colombia, near the mouth of the Magdalena river, saying that conditions there were very much disturbed, that the telegraph and railroad communication had been interrupted and requesting the department's attention.

The dispatch was sent at once to the state department, and our consul at Barranquilla, a place near Santa Marta, was called on for an immediate report concerning the situation. This report is expected soon, and until it is received no action looking to the dispatch of a warship will be taken by the navy department.

Marines at Colon.

COLON, Colombia, Sept. 23.—The United States auxiliary cruiser Panther, from the League Island navy yard, with a battalion of marines on board, has just arrived here. Efforts are being made to secure suitable quarters here for the American marines.

BELGIAN QUEEN DEAD.

Marie Henriette Passes Away Suddenly After Long Illness.

SPA, Belgium, Sept. 20.—Marie Henriette, queen of the Belgians, died here suddenly last night at ten minutes before 8 o'clock. Neither her husband, members of her family nor her majesty's doctors were present at the time of her death. She was seated at a table eating a light dinner when she was seized with an attack of syncope.

Dr. Guillaume, who in the course of the day had remarked upon certain disquieting symptoms in the queen's condition, was summoned immediately, but her majesty was dead before he arrived. Two members of her suit were with the queen during her last moments.

Queen Marie Henriette was a daughter of the late Archduke Joseph of Austria. She was born Aug. 23, 1836, and was married Aug. 22, 1853, to Prince Leopold of Belgium, son of King Leopold I., who ascended the throne at the death of his father as Leopold II. Dec. 10, 1865.

The late queen was noted for her piety and charity, and in recognition of her devotion to the church the pope sent her about nine years ago a notable token of his high esteem in the form of the Golden Rose of Virtue.

YOUNG CONFESSES.

Slayer of Mrs. Pulitzer Found In Derby, Conn.

DERBY, Conn., Sept. 23.—William Hooper Young, for whom the police of New York have been searching in connection with the murder of Mrs. Anna Nelson Pulitzer, has been found. He has admitted his identity and is also said to have made a confession regarding the killing of Mrs. Pulitzer.

In the guise of a tramp he had been wandering about the country for several days when he was arrested by the Derby police on suspicion. Although his description corresponded closely with that sent out by the New York officers, the prisoner at first stoutly denied any connection with the murder, and even when he was confronted with a man who was formerly a fellow workman he still denied his identity. But later upon the arrival of a man with whom he was intimately acquainted the prisoner acknowledged that he is William Hooper Young. He consented to go back to New York without the formality of requisition papers.

He Planted Half Acre in Onions.

M. S. Bond, of Chulasky, Northumberland county, last spring planted a half acre in onions. Of the half acre under cultivation Mr. Bond sold $118 worth of green onions, disposing of them in bunches at the curbstone market. This reduced the ground under cultivation from one-half to three fourths of an acre. From this fraction of an acre he has gathered 350 bushels of dried onions, which find a ready sale today at seventy-five cents per bushel, but which before the hollidays can be disposed of at a much higher figure, probably at $1.00 per bushel. Mr. Bond's experiment has shown that an acre of ground will produce over 900 bushels of dried onions, a commodity which can easily be disposed of, if not in the local markets at least by shipping. The price seldom falls below the figure quoted above and is often above it. A little figuring it would seem, would convince any farmer, who is familiar with the cost of onion settings and the labor involved, that there is more money in onions, than he is apt to realize in the cultivation of any other kind of truck, not excepting tomatoes, which are considered a profitable crop. Corn, wheat or any of the farm staples could not be made to produce forty-five dollars per acre.

Half a Million For Charities

The will of Miss Harriet S. Benson, who in life was prominent as a philanthropist, was admitted to probate last week. The testament to which are attached ten codicils, disposes of an estate estimated to be worth upwards of $2,000,000. The testatrix made charitable bequests amounting to half a million dollars. Among the more prominent institutions remembered are the following:

The American Sunday School union, $25,000.

The Women's Union Foreign Missionary Society and the China Inland mission, $50,000 each.

$25,000, the income to be paid to the board of foreign missions of the Reformed Episcopal church; $25,000, the income to be used by the American board of commissioners for foreign mission work in Africa, and $2,000 to the Tuskegee Normal and Industrial school.

Numerous other bequests are made to local charitable institutions, many of them receiving $5,000.

A New 13-Cent Stamp.

A 13 cent stamp is a new departure in the issues of the United States postoffice department, and this departure is so marked and unusual that the demand for the stamp for collectors' purposes is already very large in advance of its publication. It is intended for practical purposes, and is not merely an ornamental issue, like some of those that have been made in connection with our world's fairs and universal expositions. In the foreign registered mail the stamp will cover both domestic and foreign postage, and it will be immediately brought into extensive use, as indicated by the actual needs of foreign correspondence.

Found Fortune in Old Chest.

In ransacking an old chest which had not been opened in a quarter of a century, Farmer Abrams, of Pond-Eddy, found, among a lot of old papers which had belonged to his grandfather, a South Carolina bond of the year 1858, for $10,000.

Abrams wrote to the Treasurer of South Carolina and he wanted to know if the bond had any market value. The Treasurer investigated and replied that they were worth 100 cents on the dollar. Besides the face of the bond hundreds of dollars of interest have accrued.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury

as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure to get the genuine. It is taken internally, and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free.

Sold by Druggists, price 75c. per bottle.

WASHINGTON.

From our Regular Correspondent.

Washington, September 18, 1902.

The report that Speaker Henderson has decided not to run for the Fifty eighth Congress proved as great a surprise to the democratic leaders as it did to the republicans and numerous theories were offered in explanation. That it is a most tangible evidence that there is friction in republican circles is admitted by all. The Iowa republicans are badly split, the Dolliver-Cummings-Roberts faction favoring tariff revision, as opposed to the Allison-Henderson-Shaw-Wilson combination which opposes the slightest change in the duties which have proven of such great service to the trusts. That the former faction represents the majority of Iowa republicans, was proven by the tariff plank adopted at the recent state convention. From these facts, certain democrats draw the conclusion that Speaker Henderson foresaw defeat in his efforts for re-election, particularly as he was likely to be opposed by so strong a candidate as Ex-Governor Boies, and he took time by the forelock and declined to run. At all events, it must be conceded that he has "retired under fire," and a most searching fire.

Another and more ingenious theory which is advanced in Washington is that Senator Allison immediately telegraphed speaker Henderson from Oyster Bay to the effect that the President had agreed to suppress his tariff reform views out of respect to the Wall Street interests and that the Speaker then declined the nomination on the ground that he was not in sympathy with the tariff revision plank of the state convention, in order that the republicans of his district might renominate him and thus, at least to a certain extent, repudiate the plank referred to, and at the same time deliver a blow to the aspirations of the Dolliver-Cummings-Roberts faction. Gen. Henderson is know to be a very shrewd politician, however, and it is quite possible that he sees farther into the future than do the majority, and that he has taken this opportunity to retire and devote himself to his law practice which will prove more remunerative now than it would if he waited to be defeated.

The latest rumor current in Washington is to the effect that the democrats of the third Iowa district have unearthed certain unsavory incidents in the private life of Mr. Henderson, incidents in which figure most prominently the "flowing bowl," etc., which they were preparing to make public during the campaign and that the Speaker preferred to retire from public life rather than undergo this sort of fire. The rumor is unconfirmed and is given here for what it is worth.

The important conference at Oyster Bay, which was participated in by the President, Senators Hanna, Aldrich, Allison, Spooner, and Lodge and Postmaster General Payne, occurred on Tuesday and the outcome was in entire accordance with that predicted in these letters some time ago. The President yielded his tariff revision views to the men who warned him that any reduction of the duties on trusts made products would effect his defeat in 1904. He agreed to go before the country and advocate the already timeworn issue of Cuban reciprocity and a constitutional amendment for the control of the trusts. He is, however, going up to Minnesota where republican candidates are promising their constituents that the election of a republican House will mean tariff revision and he is likely to have some very embarassing questions put to him. The western republicans will not be put off with the advocacy of a constitutional amendment which it will take years to effect. They have clearly stated that they want such a reduction of the duties as will insure a prompt decrease in the prices of the necessaries of life and when Mr. Roosevelt attempts to divert their attention he is likely to receive some severe surprises. Every day, the democratic leaders in Washington are receiving reports to the effect that some republican congressional nominee has declared for tariff revision, but when the President gets west, the people will have an opportunity to learn how much those declarations mean.

Last Sunday was observed in Washington, as it was all over the country, as the first anniversary of the death of President McKinley and many eloquent sermons were delivered on the life of the late president, but this deference to the murdered President seemed somewhat in the nature of an anachronism, in view of how thoroughly his party has forgotten his teachings, and even his successor, who swore to carry out his policy, has now agreed to abandon that reciprocity which Mr. McKinley outlined in his famous Buffalo speech. President McKinley, who had been the author of the highest protection bill ever enacted, said at Buffalo, "We must not repose in fancied security that we can forever sell everything and buy nothing. The period of exclusiveness is past. Commercial wars are unprofitable. A Policy of good will and friendly trade relations will prevent reprisals, etc." But in the face of the demands made on Washington by corporate greed, this is all forgotten and his alleged followers content themselves with glittering platitudes on the beauty of his home life.

"While the people may be more or less interested in Cuban reciprocity and the amending of the constitution to permit federal supervision of the trusts," said a prominent democrat yesterday, "the question which vitally concerns them is, what is going to be done in regard to the coal strike? Cuba is a long way off but the winter is almost here and we have no coal in our cellars and there is no prospect of getting any without paying a small fortune for it. It is already predicted that an immediate ending of the strike would not be followed by reasonable prices for coal before the first of January and if that proves true what is to become of the much vaunted prosperity. The people will have to curtail on all expenditures in order to keep their homes comfortable. When the large majority of the people are forced, from any reason, to economize, it means hard times, and, unless I am very much mistaken, the hard times will be felt before the elections and with disasterous effect on republican success. I do not know the remedy for the present situation in Pennsylvania, but I do know that all republican legislation makes for the rich and at the expense of the poor. It serves to concentrate the wealth of the country in the hands of the few and the people will be brought to realize that fact and will vote the democratic ticket."

The Proper Way to Take Raw Eggs.

A raw egg is an excellent tonic and is very strengthening. If prepared in the following way it is really a delicious drink: Put the yoke of an egg into a dish with a teaspoonful of white sugar and a teaspoonful of orange or lemon juice, and beat lightly with a fork. Put the white on a plate, and add a pinch of salt; then, with a broad bladed knife, beat it to a stiff froth. Now, as lightly as possible mix all together in the dish, then as lightly transfer it to a clean tumbler, which it will nearly fill if properly made. It must not stand in a warm place, as it soon becomes liquid and loses its snowy look. Any fruit juice may be used in place of orange or lemon.

Pennsylvania's Popular Inter-County Fair at Milton.

The Milton fair, which enjoys the distinction of being the best all round fair in Central Pennsylvania, will hold its fall meeting this year on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, October 1st, 2nd, and 4rd. The management have been particularly active this year in arranging for one of the best exhibitions the association ever held. The exhibits promise to exceed any previous year in the society's history. The attractions will be entirely new and novel and the races, unless all signs fail, will be up to the standard. In addition to the usual features of the county fair, several state celebrities are expected to be here during the week and address the people. Milton is accessible by rail from every direction and all railroads running to Milton and their connections will have a special train service with reduced rates. Come to Milton—the fair's patrons are never disappointed, or dissatisfied.

The season for shooting squirrels will soon open. Those who have occasion to be in the woods, report the little animals very numerous.

Arbor Day Order.

Friday, October 17, Designated For Rural School Observance.

Professor Schaeffer, superintendent of public instruction, has issued the following Arbor Day order:

"Trees can be planted in the fall as well as in the spring. Hence it has become customary for many schools to celebrate autumn Arbor Day in addition to the Arbor Days which the governor annually designates by proclamation in the spring of the year. For rural schools closing before the middle of April, the autumn Arbor Day is the only day which they can observe.

"In accordance with this custom, Friday, October 17, 1902, is hereby named as autumn Arbor Day, and the directors, teachers and pupils of our public schools are requested to observe the day by planting trees and other suitable exercises. The story of trees famous in history may be told. The value of trees for utility and adornment, the effect of forests in retaining and distributing rainfall, and the forestry movement under which half a million acres have been purchased by the state and set apart as a public reservation may be profitably discussed. The career now opening up to young men who make forestry a profession should be pointed out. But above all else, the pupils should be taught by actual experience how to plant trees, how to promote their growth, and how to protect them from noxious insects and other enemies."

Here's to the festive candidate: He kissed the baby and rubbed the heads of Sam and Sue, he swore the twins were beautiful and wished he had two—but that doesn't count. He ask about the cornbread, which he vainly tried to chaw, and forthwith begged for the recipe, of course that tickled ma—but that doesn't count. But just before he left he stopped and winked, closed up his jaw, and slipping out behind the barn, he took a drink with pa—and that's what counts with some voters.

S. C. Buckalew of Fairmount Springs has been appointed by Governor Stone, as one of the delegates from Pennsylvania to the Farmers National Congress, to be held at Macon, Georgia, during the week of October 7. There will be forty-seven delegates from this state.

W. B. ALLEN,
County Chairman.

The people are about to take a hand at ripping the ripper.

If Ike Brown gets in there will not be padlocks enough in the State to go round among those who will deem extra fastenings necessary.

John Sherman, ex-Secretary of the Treasury, and United States Senator said:

"Every advance toward a free exchange of commodities is an advance in civilization; every obstruction to a free exchange is born of the narrow despotic spirit which planted castles upon the Rhine to plunder peaceful commerce; every obstruction to commerce is a tax upon consumption; every facility to a free exchange cheapens commodities, increases trade and production and promotes civilization. Nothing is worse than sectionalism within a nation, and nothing is better for the peace of nations than unrestricted freedom of commerce and intercourse with each other.

The primary object of a protective tariff is to invite the fullest competition by individuals and corporations in domestic productions. If such individuals or corporations combine to advance the price of the domestic product, and to prevent the free result of open and fair competition, I would, without a moments hesitation, reduce the duties on foreign goods competing with them in order to break down the combination. Whenever this free competition is evaded or avoided by combinations or corporations, the duty should be reduced and foreign competition promptly invited."

It must be said that Cousin Matt bears up exceedingly well under his disappointment over the repeated failures of ballot reform.

A Republican View.

The Hazleton Sentinel, a staunch Republican paper that is supporting the Republican party ticket from the governor down, has this to say on the congressional contest in this district:

The congressional election in the Seventeenth district is in full swing and Mr. Godcharles, of Sunbury, will so organize the Republicans of the four counties as to make the best showing possible. It is a forlorn hope however, as was shown in the election of Mr. Polk, of Danville, who won over Mr. Woodin, of Berwick, by 2,300. The latter's vote was, in Northumberland 6,708, Columbia 3,584, Montour 992, Sullivan 1,203, total 12,487. Mr. Polk's relative vote was 6,619, 4,767, 2,096, 1,310, total 14,792. Mr. Woodin made as good a run, resultant from a thorough canvass as could be made, but he had nevertheless to succumb to the inevitable in that overslaughed district. This year it is with infinitely less than the ordinary modicum of regret that we will contemplate defeat, for the character of the Democratic candidate is so high, his manhood and his conception of the equities is so much above and beyond the average, that he will represent his district with distinct credit and no detriment to the general good or to present prosperity. Mr. Dickerman, of Milton, who is able and conscientious, ripened by age, broadened by experience and application, will make an admirable representative and will command prominent place among the solid, conservative men. What he has achieved thus far has been due entirely to his own efforts. He inherited those sterling traits of character, honesty, integrity, sobriety and determination, which are so essential and they were his capital when he began life as a school teacher back in the early sixties. His aim has always been to do what he did right and to succeed in everything he undertook. He made a good school teacher, and so in all the pursuits he has followed during his active life, first as a bookkeeper, then as a coal merchant, later as manager of a large slate company and finally as the financial head of the Milton Car Co. Few if any men in the district have had a broader experience or have come in personal contact with so many of the prominent leaders in business and politics, and with the same unostentatious, determined effort that has unraveled the knotty problems arising in his own career, he will labor to harmonize the conflicting interests of his constituents to the end that equal and exact justice may be done to all. Futile it is to hope for a Republican member from the Seventeenth district, and hence it is with real pleasure that we make the most of the occasion afforded to speak thus of Mr. Dickerman.

It is an interesting question in Republican political economy as to which costs more, the keeping out of jail or an election to the Senate.

Pennsylvania Copper.

O. B. Mellick of Bloomsburg, Fred Godcharles, of this place, W. W. Rishel of Montgomery, H. A. Keene of DuBois, W. M. Harrison and W. C. Currin, Esq., of Williamsport, says the Milton Record, spent all day Tuesday at the mines of the Beaver Lake Copper Mining Company, in Penn township, Lycoming county. Mr. Currin states that there are twelve men now at work at these mines, and they have dug 109 feet into the mountain. Tracks have been laid in 100 feet. Two hundred tons of ore are already mined and ready for the smelter, which will be erected by November. The ore assays seventeen per cent. copper.

Black Hair

"I have used your Hair Vigor for five years and am greatly pleased with it. It certainly restores the original color to gray hair. It keeps my hair soft."—Mrs. Helen Kilkenny, New Portland, Me.

Ayer's Hair Vigor has been restoring color to gray hair for fifty years, and it never fails to do this work, either.

You can rely upon it for stopping your hair from falling, for keeping your scalp clean, and for making your hair grow.

An Ancient Foe

To health and happiness is Scrofula—as ugly as ever since time immemorial.

It causes bunches in the neck, disfigures the skin, inflames the mucous membrane, wastes the muscles, weakens the bones, reduces the power of resistance to disease and the capacity for recovery, and develops into consumption.

"A bunch appeared on the left side of my neck. It caused great pain, was lanced, and became a running sore. I went into a general decline. I was persuaded to try Hood's Sarsaparilla, and when I had taken six bottles my neck was healed, and I have never had any trouble of the kind since." MRS. E. T. SNYDER, Troy, Ohio.

Hood's Sarsaparilla and Pills will rid you of it, radically and permanently, as they have rid thousands.

THE STATE AT A GLANCE.

—Nineteen thousand five hundred rainbow trout, from Wytheville, Va., have been distributed in streams around Williamsport, Lock Haven and Bellefonte.

—Mrs. Roceo Ballatera was arrested at Hazleton on Monday charged with setting fire to her home a few nights ago. The blaze destroyed $15,000 worth of property. The woman was held in bail for court.

—Death caused directly from a corn on the little toe of his right foot overtook Fidel Heitzman of Shamokin on Monday. Although he had his foot amputated several days before in an effort to save his life, he died after much suffering.

—James Farley was fatally and three others seriously injured in a collision on the Philadelphia & Reading Railway, between Mt. Carmel and Sunbury on Thursday night. All were striking coal miners.

—Secretary of the Treasury Shaw has authorized the distribution in round numbers of $10,000,000, in public funds among banks throughout the country, which have bonds available for security, as a means of relieving the stringency of the money market.

—The case of John S. Gulick, of Northumberland, under sentence of death for first degree murder, was continued at Saturday's session of the board of pardons until the October meeting, owing to the absence of Lieutenant Governor Gobin, who is in command of the troops on duty in the anthracite coal strike region.

What's the use of building a $4,000,000 Capitol, if the State is to be governed from San Lucie, Florida?

From Court House Corridors.

Commissioner Krickbaum is still confined to his home. It will be some time before he is able to attend the meeting of the Board.

Your Reward Will Come From Heaven.

A few evenings ago a woman called at a DuBois residence and asked permission to leave a basket there for a few minutes. Permission was given and when the woman did not return the basket was examined and found to contain a fine, healthy baby girl about a week old. A note reading as follows was pinned to the child's dress: "Please be a father and a mother to this poor, little homeless baby and your reward will come from heaven; for this has been its mother's prayer for many a night and it was the Lord's will that it was sent here."

The lady with whom the baby was left has no children of her own and will keep and care for the little waif.

TOWNSEND'S FALL STYLES OF STYLISH CLOTHING

For Young Men, Boys and Children.

CALL AND SEE THEM.

THAT ONE WORD READY!

It tells the whole story of a new season's preparation in this shop. It tells you of markets visited, representative lines of the world's best merchandise carefully inspected and carefully bought. It tells you that this same merchandise is here now awaiting your verdict of approval. Warm autumn colorings have supplanted the light airy tints of summer in every section of the store. The needed things, the looked for things, the things you've been figuring on for your autumn and winter outfitting are all here and ready.

The New Wool Weaves.

Dress Goods interest you more just now perhaps than any other class of merchandise. This store's dress goods showing is all that you could ask. This week we will sell

New Furniture For Fall.

This is a department this store is very proud of because it makes so many new friends for the store. We get most of the furniture we sell from our Home Factory We have no freight to pay, no packing or unpacking that costs. It is fresh from the maker, bright and new, and at a less price than you can get it anywhere else, if you will compare quality. We don't claim to have the lowest priced furniture, it won't pay us to sell the cheap kind or it won't pay you to buy it. If you are in need of furniture this fall, we invite you to come to this store and let us show you what we can do.

F. P. Pursel.

Stop That Spitting.

Dr. Benjamin Lee, secretary of the State Board of Health, is sending out notices to the effect that the Board has adopted a resolution requiring cities and boroughs to enforce the ordinance prohibiting the spitting on sidewalks, floors of cars and public places. The penalty for a violation of the ordinance is $5 to $25 fine or imprisonment.

The chestnut crop in this part of the state will be very large this year, and according to experts the nuts will be well developed and free from worms. Abundant moisture, cool nights and slow development tend to make chestnuts fat and sweet and the same weather conditions are favorable to the full development of walnuts, hazel nuts, hickory nuts and butter nuts.

John H. Stiner answered the final summons at his home on East First street Sunday morning. He was a quiet and peaceable citizen and as a natural following much respected. He was thirty-nine years old and leaves a wife and three children. The funeral took place on Tuesday. The P. O. S. of A. and O. U. A. M. of which he was a member attended the obsequies in a body.

Few farmers would knowingly invite to their premises known enemies, to live upon the best the land affords, but just now many a negligent farmer is allowing to go to seed dozens of luxuriant weeds. They will "run out," of course, but it will take years, and while they are "running out" they will run the farmer out, too, and his soil out and his income out. The farmer who allows weeds to overrun his farm is neglecting a serious, imperative duty.

TALK NO. 33.

READING AND SEWING.

There would be fewer glasses worn upon the streets if people would use them for reading and sewing earlier. It is near work that wears out the eyes. The bookkeeper, typewriter, the dressmaker, the child in school are all putting their eyes to the hardest strain. A great many have constant headaches which they attribute to indigestion and nervousness, when the cause is simply overtaxed eyes. If in reading the evening paper you have to place the light "Just So"; if the letters all run together; if you have to close your eyes and rub them; it is nature's protest against over work. If threading your needle is more difficult than it used to be, it is the first warning of defective eyesight. The sooner you use glasses for near work the better. If you commence at once very likely you will only have to wear them in reading and sewing. If you go on straining your eyes, the chances are you will soon have to wear glasses constantly. "A stitch in time saves nine."

WORLD APPEALED TO

Boer Generals Ask Help For Their People.

BRITISH AID IS INSUFFICIENT.

The Small Amount Given by Great Britain if Multiplied Tenfold Would Not Cover War Losses Alone.

AMSTERDAM, Sept. 24.—The Boer generals Botha, De Wet and Delarey have issued a manifesto in the shape of an appeal to the civilized world. This document recalls how after the terrible struggle in South Africa and the Boers were compelled to accept the British terms of peace the generals were commissioned to proceed to England and appeal to the new government to allay the distress which is devastating the colonies and in the event of the failure of the mission to appeal to the civilized world for charitable contributions.

Continuing, the generals say that, having failed to induce Great Britain to grant further assistance, it only remains for them to address themselves to the people of Europe and America.

After setting forth how sweet it had been during the critical days they had passed through to receive constant marks of sympathy the generals take this opportunity to express on behalf of the people of the late republic fervent thanks to all those who had assisted charitably the women and children in the concentration camps, prisoners, etc. "The small Boer nation," goes on the manifesto, "can never forget the help it received in its dark hours of suffering. Our people are completely ruined. It has been impossible to make a complete inventory, but we are convinced that at least 30,000 houses on Boer farms and many villages were burned or destroyed by the British during the war. Everything was destroyed, and the country was completely laid waste. The war demanded many victims, the land was bathed in tears, and our orphans and widows were abandoned. We are appealing to the world for contributions to assist the destitute and help in the education of children."

The generals repudiate all desire to inflame the minds of the people and declare, "The sword is now sheathed, and all differences are silent in the presence of such misery."

They say the small amount given by Great Britain even if multiplied tenfold would not suffice to cover the war losses alone.

"We solicit the hearty co-operation of all existing committees in the various countries which we are on the point of visiting with the object of establishing a satisfactory organization."

The manifesto is signed by General Botha, General De Wet and General Delarey.

THE BIRMINGHAM DISASTER.

Death List From Mad Stampede Reaches 105.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Sept. 22.—The total number of dead in the mad stampede at the national negro Baptist convention caused by a fight and a cry of "Fire!" is 105.

Shiloh church is the largest house of worship for negroes in Birmingham, and the pastor says there were at least 2,000 persons in the edifice when the stampede began. Instructions had been issued to allow no one else to enter after the building had been filled, but the negroes forced their way inside the church and were standing in every aisle, when a cry of "Fight! Fight!" was mistaken for "Fire!" and a deadly scramble began to get out. The entrance to the church was literally packed, and the negroes were trampled to death in their struggle to escape.

Foreign Coal Arrives.

NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—The first consignment of Welsh anthracite coal which large dealers and consumers have found it necessary to import on account of the coal miners' strike in the anthracite coal regions of Pennsylvania reached this port on board the British steamer Devonshire, which left Swansea, Wales, on Sept. 5. A second consignment of Welsh anthracite is expected to arrive here in a few days on the British steamer Glencoe, which left Swansea four days after the Devonshire sailed. These two shipments consist of about 8,000 tons. It is reported that orders have been placed in Wales for hundreds of thousands of tons of anthracite.

German Matchmakers In Trouble.

BERLIN, Sept. 24.—The German matchmaking business, in which about $8,750,000 of capital is invested, has been brought within measurable distance of ruin by the output of the American Diamond Match company's new factories near Mannheim. Matches that six months ago were sold from the German works at $20 a case are now selling at $16 a case, or $1 below the cost of production by the old fashioned process. The Diamond company uses machinery from the United States. Their German branch has been in operation for five months, and it always sells at prices below the offers made by the old companies.

Pacing Record Equaled.

READVILLE, Mass., Sept. 24.—Dan Patch, the famous pacer, went against the world's record of 1:59¼, made by Star Pointer on the Readville track five years ago, yesterday afternoon and in a truly magnificent performance equaled the record.

ENGAGED.

Marriage is very largely an accident. In few cases do men or women set up a standard of manly or womanly excellence and choose by it. In most cases people become engaged as the result of propinquity rather than because of any deep rooted preference. And so it often happens that the wife enters upon the obligations of maternity just as thoughtlessly as she entered on the marriage relation, because no one has warned her of the dangers she faces.

Thousands of women become invalids for lack of knowledge of themselves. It is to this large body of women that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription comes as a priceless boon, because it cures womanly ills.

"Favorite Prescription" establishes regularity, dries weakening drains, heals inflammation and ulceration and cures female weakness. It makes weak women strong, sick women well.

"After my first child was born," writes Mrs. Jordan Stout, of Fawcettgap, Frederick Co., Va., "my health was very poor for a long time, and last winter I was so bad with pain down in back I could hardly move without great suffering. My husband got me a bottle of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and a vial of his 'Pleasant Pellets,' which I used as directed. In four days I was greatly relieved, and now, after using the medicine three months, I seem to be entirely well. I can't see why it is that there are so many suffering women when there is such an easy way to be cured. I know your medicines are the best in the world."

Told the Truth for Once.

Not long since an editor announced that for just one issue he was going to tell the truth, unvarnished and naked. Here is one item from the issue:

"Married—Miss Sylvia Rhodes to James Carraham, last Saturday evening at the Baptist parsonage. The bride is an ordinary town girl who does not know any more than a rabbit about cooking and never helped her poor mother three days in her life. She is not a beauty by no means and has a gait like a fat duck. The groom is very well known here and is an up-to-date loafer, has been living off the old folks all his life and don't amount to shucks nohow. They will have a hard life while they live together and we hasten to extend absolutely no congratulations, for we don't believe any good can come from such a union."

The next day there was a funeral.

Museum in Woman's Stomach.

Surgeons took out the stomach of Mrs. Susan A. Spaulding, of Elwood, Ind., on Saturday, and found a tumor clinging to the walls, in which were encysted, a bunch of sugar-cane stalks as large as a marble which had been chewed to a pulp, a ball of chewed thread as large as a bird's egg and a piece of shoestring seven inches long, in which a knot was tied.

The woman is 37 years old, and is the mother of four children, the youngest 11 years old. For 15 years she has been treated for cancer of the stomach.

In his old age the man was made an easy victim of sharpers, who got him to go into all kinds of schemes, none of which paid, but were the means of impoverishing him. The old man will receive good care the rest of his days.

A Mild Winter Predicted

Here's the prediction that will fall on the ears of the man whose coal bin is still empty like the choicest music. Prof. C. E. Meyers, of the government weather department, says the summer season will be prolonged until late in the fall. He also predicts a mild winter. His theory is that the volume of water which has fallen during May, June and July cannot be evaporated from the earth during the summer and that the water in the earth will hold the summer heat far into the winter.

WAGES AND LAW.

A Judge Wants to Regulate Pay of Coal Miners.—Judge Benjamin, of Illinois, Holds That the Legislature Has the Right.

Some time ago the papers contained a statement made by Judge R. M. Benjamin, of Illinois, a noted jurorist, to the effect that the Legislature has power to step in and compel settlement of the coal strike. Judge Benjamin received so many inquiries as to the basis upon which his contention rests that he has written out his views in full. He quotes the constitution and opinions of various courts to show the right of the government to step into the relations between capital and labor, and he then goes on to say:

The proposed legislation for establishing reasonable minimum prices per ton for mining coal in the anthracite region of Pennsylvania is similar to the legislation of Illinois establishing reasonable maximum rates of charges for transportation on the railroads in that state.

The powers of the Legislature over railroad corporations was fully discussed in the convention which framed the constitution that was adopted by the people of Illinois in 1870 (Debates of Constitutional Convention, Illinois, vol. 2, p. 1,641;) and the following mandatory provision was incorporated in the constitution: "The General Assembly shall, from time to time, pass laws establishing reasonable maximum rates of charges for the transportation of passengers and freight on the different railroads in this state."

In accordance with that mandate, in 1873, a "railroad and warehouse commission" was created with authority to make schedules with reasonable maximum rates of charges which are to be taken in all courts of the state as prima facie evidence that the rates therein perscribed are reasonable. The schedules are subject to revision from time to time as often as circumstances may require, and penalties are prescribed for charging more than a reasonable rate. The character of the legislation is such that in a proceeding for a penalty a railroad corporation may escape conviction if it is able to show on trial before a jury that its charges, although above those prescribed in the schedule, are only reasonable.

It is confidently believed that similar legislation in Pennsylvania providing for a classification of the mines with reference to the depth and thickness of the coal veins and any other "differential" that may be deemed important, and providing for schedules prescribing what shall be taken in the courts as prima facie reasonable minimum prices per ton for mining coal, and fixing a suitable penalty against any operator who may make contracts with miners for less than reasonable prices, will be held to be constitutional, and not an unreasonable restraint of the now arbitrary power of these combined mining corporations in making contracts with the individual miner.

In Holden vs. Hardy 69, United States, 366, it is held that a statute of Utah providing that the "period of employment of workingmen in all underground mines or workings shall be eight hours per day except in cases of emergency, where life or property is in emminent danger," does not violate the provisions of the fourteenth amendment by abridging the privileges or immunities of its citizens, or by depriving them of their property, or by denying to them the equal protection of the laws.

In this case the court cites with approbation the following from Chief Justice Shaw:

"Rights of property, like all other social and conventional rights, are subject to such reasonable limitations in their enjoyment as shall prevent them from being injurious, and to such reasonable restraints and regulations established by law as the Legislature, under the governing and controlling power vested in it by the constitution, may think necessary and expedient." And thereupon the court added: "This power legitimately exercised can neither be limited by contract nor bartered away."—P. 392.

It is a matter that should be considered and well pondered over by the magnates of the coal combine; that in this same case the supreme courts of the United States says:

"The Legislature has also recognized the fact, which the experience of legislators in many states has corroborated, that the proprietors of these establishments and their operatives do not stand upon an equality, and that their interests are, to a certain extent conflicting. The former naturally desire to obtain as much labor as possible from their employes, while the latter are often induced by the fear of discharge to confirm to regulations which their judgment, favorably exercised, would pronounce to be detrimental to their health and strength. In other words, the proprietors lay down the rules, and the laborers are practically constrained to obey them. In such cases self interest is often an unsafe guide, and the Legislature may properly interpose its authority.

In Knoxville Iron Co. vs. Harbison, 183 U. S., 13, it was held that an act of the Legislature of the state of Tennessee, requiring the redemption in cash of store orders or other evidences of indebetedness issued by employers in payment of wages due employes, does not conflict with any provisions of the constitution of the United States relating to contracts.

The court quotes extensively from the opinion of the state court sustaining the validity of this enactment, and thereupon adds: "The supreme court of Tennessee justified its conclusions by so full and satisfactory a reference to the decisions of this court as to render it unnecessary for us to travel over the same ground. It will be sufficient to briefly notice two or three of the latest cases:

"In Holden vs. Hardy, 169 U. S., 366, validity of an act of the state of Utah, regulating the employment of workingmen in underground mines and fixing the period of employment at eight hours per day, was in question. There, as here, it was contended that the Legislature deprived the employers and employes of the right to make contracts in a lawful way and for lawful purposes; that it was class legislation, and not equal or uniform in its provisions; that it deprived the parties of the equal protection of the laws, abridged the privileges and immunities of the defendant, a citizen of the United States, and deprived him of his property and liberty without due process of law. But it was held, after full review of the previous cases, that the act in question was a valid exercise of the police power of the state, and the judgment of the supreme court of Utah sustaining the legislation was affirmed."

"In St. Louis, Iron Mountain, etc., railway vs. Paul, 173 U. S., 404, a judgment of the supreme court of Arkansas, sustaining the validity of an act of the Legislature of that state which provided that whenever any corporation or person engaged in operating a railroad should discharge, with or without cause, any employe or servant, the unpaid wages of such servant then earned should become due and payable on the date of such discharge without abatement or deduction, was affirmed.

It is well to remember the language of Chief Justice Fuller quoted in another connection: "The right to contract is not absolute, but may be subjected to the restraint demanded by safety and welfare of the state" Now the question arises: Does the peace and good order, the safety and welfare of the state of Pennsylvania and the inhabitants of the anthracite coal region demand such legislation?

In view of the long train of evils following the present struggle between the mine operators and mine workers over the price of wages, would not the proposed legislation come strictly within the so-called, but never closely defined, police powers of the state? Would not such legislation be as clearly within the police powers as the laws prohibiting or restricting the sale of intoxicating liquors, or laws making illegal contracts for the purchase of "future delivery" cotton or grain? A sale is a contract. The sale of wine and beer is restrained by law. Why does government in this case interfere with the liberty or freedom of contracts?

It is not because the sale, by itself, is wrong. But laws are made with a view to human nature and the way men are often inclined to act. Men ought not to spend their earnings for drink—ought not to quit all work and allow their wives and children to come to want and destitution—ought not to fight and commit murder. The safety and welfare of the state and its inhabitants demand and justify the enactment of laws controlling the sale of intoxicating liquors.

So in considering what would be proper legislation for the preventation or settlement of controversies between corporations and miners, the wise legislator will take into account human nature as it is and has been for over a quarter of a century in the coal fields. The corporations own the mines, and duly qualified miners own the labor. They are dependent upon each other for their earnings. Unworked mines will rmain subject to taxes, and idle miners will become subject to want and destitution. The corporations and miners differ as to the price of labor. The corporations refuse to give what the miners regard as only a reasonable wage. The miners refuse to labor for less than that. The corporations and the miners have the utmost liberty or freedom of contracts, just as the wine seller and the wine bidder have in the absence of all laws for controlling the sale of intoxicating liquors.

The corporations arbitrarily fix the price they will give for labor, and will not listen to proffers by the miners for compromise. The idle miners ought not to molest or use any violence toward other miners from any quarter. They ought not to insult or throw stones at the troops ordered to the mines by the state authorities on the demand of the corporations. Sooner than do either of these things the 147,000 miners of the anthracite region should go back to work in the mines at the arbitrary prices fixed by the corporations, or else abandon the benefit of all the special skill they have acquired in mining hard coal, and go away with their families to other parts of the state or country. But some men at the risk of law and bayonets and sharpshooters will sooner steal food than starve to death. And as men of brightest intellect, when they become hard drinkers, are led on step by step from the commission of one crime to that of another, so we find that a disagreement as to wages for mining coal leads to strikes, and strikes of any considerable duration are always followed by want and destitution, by mobs and murder.

In the language of the supreme court of Colorado (23 Col., 507): "While it is difficult to define the boundaries of the police power, it admittedly extends to the protection of the lives, health and property of the citizens and the preservation of good order and the public morals. We may properly take cognizance of the fact that the most serious disturbances which have occurred in this country for the last twenty-five years have grown out of controversies between employer and employe. No one doubts the authority or questions the duty of the state to interfere with such force as may be necessary to repress such disturbances and maintain the public peace and tranquility; and as well may the state provide in advance against certain kinds of fraud and oppression which leads to these outbreaks."

The mine operator has no moral right to extort from the mine worker his labor at less than a reasonable price. The mine operator in the "coal combine" of the anthracite region is strong, very strong, but "the strongest is never strong enough to be always master, unless he transforms his strength into right and obedience to duty."

The gold dollar, which passed out of circulation some years ago because the government suspended the coinage of this diminutive piece of metal, is to be temporarily reintroduced in 1904.

A puny child is always an anxiety to the parents. There seems generally no reason why the little one should be weak when it is so well fed. But the fact is that it does not matter how much food the child takes if the stomach cannot extract the nourishment from it. No benefit can be derived from just eating. That is the condition of many a sickly child. The stomach and organs of digestion and nutrition are not doing their work, and the body is really starving. It is little use to give fish foods, like cod liver oil or emulsions, in such a case, because these also have to be digested; they may lighten the stomach's labor but they don't strengthen it. Strength is what the stomach needs. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery strengthens the stomach, nourishes the nerves and increases the action of the blood making glands. It is superior to every other preparation for children's use, on account of the body building qualities, and also because it is pleasant to the taste and contains no alcohol, whiskey or other intoxicant. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are a valuable aid when the bowels are irregular. They are small. Children take them readily.

HOW PENNYPACKER WAS NOMINATED

A Boss-Selected Candidate Without Popular Support.

BACKED BY THE MACHINE

Elkin Thrown Aside and Forty-one Delegates Taken From Him by Orders of Quay.

OPEN CHARGES OF BRIBERY

The Story of a Political Crime as Told by Quay's Own Disgusted Friends.

REPUBLICANS UNDER THE LASH

The odious and disgraceful records of political bossism and corruption in Pennsylvania may be searched in vain for a parallel to the shameful story of the nomination of Samuel W. Pennypacker as the so-called Republican candidate for governor. This recent history will not soon be forgotten. The name of the machine candidate was not mentioned until a short time before the Harrisburg convention. At Quay's orders Durham deserted his friend, Attorney General Elkin, who was making a most successful canvass for the nomination, and turned in over eighty delegates from Philadelphia for Pennypacker. At the same time Elkin was ordered out of the fight. He publicly refused to be thrown aside and challenged Pennypacker to a contest in the counties yet to be heard from. In a number of places the lines were thus drawn and in every instance, despite all the resources of the Quay machine, the hard work of his federal office-holders and the corrupt use of money, his choice was beaten. Apparently, the Republican voters taking part in the primaries were overwhelmingly for Elkin. When the convention met Quay bull-dozed everything and everybody, taking forty-one pledged delegates from Elkin, and thus forced the unpopular nomination of the candidate of his own choice. Herein is given daily extracts from the editorial columns of the Philadelphia Inquirer, the most stalwart machine and Quay paper in the state, during the days immediately preceding the convention:

Republicans Under the Lash.

"The Republicans of Pennsylvania are today under the lash of Senator Quay. In various counties Elkin and Watres have met and fought it out, and in every instance Elkin has won by a direct vote of the people. Everything was going smoothly, when suddenly Senator Quay broke away and plunged his party into confusion. It was an outrageous thing to do. Pennsylvania Republicans are today under the lash. The sentiment of the people must be throttled. The Quay orders are out to line up for the Quay candidate. It is not what the people want, but what Quay wants, and he is going to Harrisburg himself to lay violent hands upon the convention."

Quay's Method of Making Candidates.

"Elkin has been making his canvass before the people. Is Quay appealing to the people? By no means. It is easy enough to give orders, but sometimes the people decline to take them, and we shall see whether the people or the orders of Senator Quay are going to prevail in the convention. The Inquirer has great faith in the people; apparently Senator Quay has lost faith in them. There is a splendid opportunity for the people to make themselves heard and to win the fight for fair play."

The People and the Governorship.

"The one question before the Republican party of Pennsylvania to-day is whether the people themselves shall name a candidate for governor, or whether a single individual shall dictate one. Majority rule or one-man dictation—that is the question before the Republican voters of Pennsylvania today."

Quay's Political Crime.

"'I refuse to be ordered out, bartered out or forced out,' said Elkin. He will not withdraw. He has been gaining in strength since Quay committed his political crime. It does not seem to be Mr. Quay's way to appeal to the people this year."

Give the People Their Way.

"Some years ago the popular choice of the Republicans of Pennsylvania for governor was General Hastings. Senator Quay insisted upon taking the convention by the throat and nominating Delamater. The result is history. The people could not be controlled. They made up their minds there had not been fair play, and Pattison was elected governor. History repeats itself sometimes."

Trying to Bribe Delegates.

"The Inquirer is in possession of evidence in several cases, showing attempts to bribe Elkin delegates. The coming convention must be conducted in all fairness, or the result may be disastrous."

Elkin's Appeal For Fair Play.

"Elkin is making a grand fight for fair play against the power of federal office-holders and ring rule. Here is what he says: 'Under the circumstances, I would be lacking in a proper appreciation of the duties of citizenship if I failed in standing for a principle that is dear to every Pennsylvania heart; that is to say, that each man shall have a fair chance in an open field before the people on every question in which the public has an interest.'"

Desperate Work of Boodlers.

"It is Philadelphia and boodle against Elkin. We do not believe a single delegate can be bribed, bought or stolen. The fight against him is not that of the people, but cash offers of desperate politicians, who seek to strangle the people, the work of federal office-holders. Quay has tried to cut the throat of the best friend he ever had. He has demanded that Republican leaders join hands in this crime. It would be ruinous for them to do so."

The Dollar Mark of Infamy.

"Any instructed delegate who refuses to vote for Elkin will have the dollar mark of infamy on his brow. All sorts of debauchery is being attempted. One Schuylkill county delegate has been offered $10,000 and a good position thrown in. A commonwealth strangled or bought would invite destruction."

The Crime Consummated.

On the morning of the convention the Inquirer's Harrisburg special telegram said:

"The straits to which Quay was driven was shown by the direct steal of four delegates by the state committee, acting under his orders. Two Schuylkill men were offered $8,000 each, and refused to take it, so they were thrown out. It was brutally done; but, as Senator Penrose said, the votes were needed and they had to be taken."

Forty-one Delegates Taken.

The day following the convention the Inquirer's Harrisburg correspondent reported Elkin as openly declaring to his friends that "41 delegates, pledged and elected," had been taken from him.

THE BLACK-JACK PARTY

Graphic Account of the Mobbing of Union Men In Philadelphia—An Object Lesson of Quayism.

The Quay machine literary bureau is trying to create a false impression in the public mind concerning the recent outrageous attack on the Union party convention in Philadelphia. Forcible expression of what he thinks of the raid of the Quay mob is given by Harry S. Paul, chairman of the Allegheny organization, and head of the Western Pennsylvania delegations, in a letter received by State Chairman Thomas L. Hicks. He vividly describes incidents of the affair which came to his notice.

Mr. Paul is a prominent business man of Pittsburg. He declares that the riotous attack was one of the greatest criminal outrages in the history of Pennsylvania politics, and will cost the Republican machine ticket many thousand votes. His letter in part follows:

As I looked upon the Union party assemblage, just before the rioters broke in, I saw an unusually fine body of respectable, law-abiding Republican business men, gathered from all parts of the commonwealth, at least five-sixths of whom had never before sat in a political state convention, and who were earnestly desirous of discharging the duty committed to them by their fellow citizens and constituents.

As If Jail Doors Had Opened.

After the mob appeared all was changed. Then in the portions of the hall occupied by its members could be seen only brutal, criminal faces, bearing the marks of vice all over them, and the thought occurred that Moyamensing and the Eastern Penitentiary had opened their doors and given a day's holiday to several hundred of their inmates for the sole purpose of advancing the interests of Quayism, Penroseism and Pennypackerism in this commonwealth.

The impression was deepened by the sight of revolvers bulging from the hip-pockets of some of the mob, and of billies and knives in the possession of others, some of the latter having been used in the attack upon the hall.

The sight of Quayism, Penroseism and Pennypackerism thus nakedly unmasked was worth a thousand campaign speeches and 10,000 newspaper articles, and its effect upon the decent citizens who beheld it and who would not have believed that such things were possible otherwise was incalculable.

The result, as I personally know, was the instant conversion of twenty delegates holding legal certificates, who intended to oppose Pattison's nomination, and some of whom proposed to vote for Pennypacker, to the support of Pattison and this number fell short of all so converted.

Signed Statement By Clearfield Delegates.

Believing it their duty to enlighten as many voters as possible as to the attack of 200 armed Quay thugs on the recent Union party convention in Philadelphia, Clearfield county's five delegates have united in a signed statement setting forth the facts.

These delegates are Frank W. Barratt, real estate agent and lumber dealer; Jacob Burge, lumberman; Casner J. Stull, policeman; P. L. Showers, dentist, and John E. Harder, merchant, all reputable men. When they went to the convention they were not for Pattison, but their experience in the riot quickly converted them.

After describing in detail how the mob led by Sheehan broke up the convention, they go on to say:

We want to say that we have always been Republicans, but of late years, since the Quay machine has become a public stench to the nostrils of the people of Pennsylvania, we have been Independent Republicans. We believe in the doctrines of Roosevelt and the Republican party.

We cannot vote for or support Judge Pennypacker, because he is being held up as a shield in front of the dirty machine, which has no more principle or any better standing in the great commonwealth than those criminals which were hired by the machine to break into the Union party convention on the 3d day of September, 1902.

We had heard of the disgraceful and shameless methods employed by the machine at their conventions, in the late legislature, and at many of the election districts in Philadelphia and Pittsburg, but we had never seen one in full bloom until we witnessed the disgraceful riot in Musical Fund Hall.

We were not committed to any candidate when we left Clearfield for the convention. We had not been instructed, neither had we signed any agreement to support any particular candidate, but our minds were soon made up when we saw a machine mob in control of a convention, and saw the character of the criminals employed by the machine to carry out its designs, even at the cost of murder, if necessary.

These are our observations, and we believe it is our duty as business men of this great state of Pennsylvania to support, vote for and work to the best of our ability for the election of Hon. Robert E. Pattison for governor of Pennsylvania, and to employ every honorable means possible to elect good men to supersede the disreputable and disgraceful gang of machine boodlers now in charge of the affairs of our state.

Elkin's friends are not shedding any tears over the exposure of Pennypacker as an abject tool of the boss. They believe in open, manly fighting, and have no use for sneaks and pharasees. Thousands of them will be missing on election day.

QUAY RING RULE IN PENNSYLVANIA

How the State Has Been Dishonored.

AN ERA OF CORRUPTION

Facts Stated By the Leading Republican Paper, When It Told the Truth.

THE DUTY OF HONEST MEN

Quayism As Seen By the Philadelphia Press Before Pennypackerism Blinded It.

LET ALL FREE VOTERS READ

There have been many queer things in Pennsylvania politics, but the backsliding of the Philadelphia Press, under the singular influence of Pennypackerism, furnishes a chapter of journalistic weakness and inconsistency that has no counterpart. Our misguided contemporary can never wipe out the commendable record of many years' vigorous hostility to Quayism and all that it stands for. It told the truth in those days, as it is now trying to hide it. It stood with the people against their enemies. It had no fellowship with an organized band of political highwaymen. It fought bravely for civic righteousness and good government. It turned on the light fearlessly. What it said then is even more apt and forcible now. We give herewith some extracts from the editorial columns of the Press during the senatorial campaign of 1900, when Mr. Quay was making such a desperate fight for re-election and the re-establishment of his power for the rebuilding and strengthening of his broken political machine. Here is what the Press said, pass it along for your self-respecting Republican neighbors to read:

Repudiate Fraudulent Nominations.

(July 18.)

"The people have shown more than once that they want fair play and decent politics. They are tired of the dictation and corruption of the machine."

(July 27.)

"The time has come in Pennsylvania when every species of machine election crime must end. Nominations made by fraud at the primaries are not entitled to respect or support, and will have neither from the honest Republicans of the state. The party has been dishonored too much by such methods."

A Combination Corrupt and Criminal.

Referring to the turning down of faithful Republican members of the legislature, by orders of the Quay machine, the Press, July 29, said:

"What do the decent citizens of Philadelphia say to this? Are they to permit those who served them to be sacrificed on that account? Do they propose that a combination of all that is corrupt and criminal in our politics, of the black-mailers and ballot thieves, shall control the party nominations and own the representatives of a free city in the legislature? This is the issue that is forced upon them."

The People Or the Bosses.

(August 2.)

"The machine is desperate. It will go to any lengths to retrieve itself for the losses it has sustained. Voters should not be led astray by any side issues or grand-stand plays. The real issues to be settled are Quay or anti-Quay, machine domination or individual independence, the people or the bosses."

No Better Than Highwaymen.

(August 3.)

"Political thievery is just as contemptible and debasing, and just as amenable to law, as the ordinary scoundrelism that relieves a man of his pocket book, or holds up the wayfarer on the highway under cover of the night."

"Quay's Doom Sealed."

(August7.)

"It will be a happy day for Pennsylvania when it takes its place along with Maine, Massachusetts, Michigan, Iowa and other Republican states, which are free from bossism and where merit and not subserviency to a boss determines who shall represent the people."

There Must Be a Clean Sweep.

"The outlook is most cheering to Pennsylvania reformers, but Quay has around him a gang that is worse than he. There must be a clean sweep. Not only Quay, but Quayism must be beaten, the machine broken up and its power destroyed."

Yet Pennypacker Is Quay's Own.

(August 15.)

"After four years of Stone the people of Pennsylvania will surely not be willing to endure another Quay machine governor."

The Duty of True Republicans.

(August 30.)

"Fusion is the last resort of life-long Republicans who refuse to be defrauded and disfranchised by a corrupt faction. The Quay machine has been endeavoring systematically to disfranise and read out of the party those Republicans who have refused to accept as the voice of their political conscience the mandates of a few petty, discredited bosses, who are posing as the Republican organization of Pennsylvania. But all the beating of tomtoms and cries of irregularity that machine organs and machine bosses can encourage cannot drive this class of true Republicans from their allegiance, or from their attempts to overthrow the corrupt and conscienceless handful of bosses who have grown rich on the spoils of office, and who seek still further to fasten themselves upon the party for personal gain."

"Nominations Made By Crime."

(September 13.)

"No candidate for the legislature nominated by means of fraud and terrorism practiced by police and other office-holders, under the direction of the machine, is entitled to the respect and support of Republican voters as a candidate of the Republican party. Every nomination so made is an outrage and a disgrace which all who care for the good name of the party must unite to repudiate. Quayism has debauched the politics of the state and must be wiped out."

Honest Election Laws a Supreme Issue

(September 21.)

"Recent exposures of election crimes have made honest election laws the supreme issue in coming legislation. It is an issue upon which men will not divide on party lines. The self-respect and common honesty of the community are arrayed against the lawless forces of machine corruption. Every honest Republican and every honest Democrat can unite to secure a common result necessary for the honor of the city and the state, and the rights of the people themselves."

How About Pennypacker?

(September 23.)

"No Republican is under obligations to respect a nomination made by crime and no really honest Republican will."

Enemies of Ballot Reform.

(October 3.)

"At every session of the legislature for eight years an earnest attempt has been made to change the form of ballot and simplify it, and in every instance it has been defeated by the opposition of members who were under the control of Quay and members in its favor were defeated for renomination."

Quayism Must Be Wiped Out.

(October 23.)

"Quay will not plague us much longer, but the fight against the machine which bears his name must not pause an instant until that machine is broken, its members routed and its power gone forever. If the people and not the machine are to rule in Pennsylvania they must secure an honest ballot and fair count."

WILL DO AS HE DID BEFORE.

In his great speech at Carlisle ex-Governor Pattison said:

"From a rereading standpoint of the events of eight years of administration I have not one line or one act of that administration to change. It elected by the suffrages of my fellow-citizens I will do over again just what I did before. During my first period I was compelled to veto over one-third of the legislation enacted because of its iniquity and its unconstitutionality. During the second period about the same percentage of vetoes was necessary. They never succeeded in passing a bill over my veto, except in one instance, and they've been heartily ashamed of that ever since."

Loot Equals One-Half the Taxes.

Here are a few paragraphs picked from the Pattison speech at Carlisle:

In the last legislative session a United States senatorship was literally auctioned off to the highest bidder. You don't need to take my word for it. You have the word of prominent and reliable members of the Republican party.

The public franchises issued by the machine to its members, for which an offer of $2,500,000 from John Wanamaker was rejected, have been converted into the assets of a syndicate, whose stock, according to the ratings of the Philadelphia Exchange, is valued at $6,000,000.

Do you know what $6,000,000 means? It represents half the total expenses of the state government for a year. If that sum had been turned into the state treasury, where it belongs, instead of into the pockets of the machine favorites, the people of Pennsylvania could have been relieved of one-half of the taxation for state purposes this year. Or, suppose it had been devoted to good roads. It would have meant $130 for every square mile in the state, or an average of nearly $100,000 to each of the 67 counties.

Guthrie's Sledge-Hammer Blows.

Candidate Guthrie was at his best at Carlisle. Following are some of his declarations which provoked great applause:

Don't be deceived by men who, starting out in the cause of good government, have grown weary. In every great movement there are those who go out with the van, but soon fall to the rear with the slaves.

The dominant machine lives by trickery, gains power by ballot fraud and uses that power to make money for its adherents.

No man ever stole an office for a good purpose.

The worst charges against the machine have never been denied. They cannot be denied.

When a man occupying a private trust uses the money of others in stock speculations the law calls him an embezzler and sends him to a felon's cell. Yet we see today men holding high public offices converting the property of the people into franchises for themselves and their associates.

The machine has been promising ballot reform since 1895. If the boss in Philadelphia were to issue the order, every illegal name on the padded registry list would disappear.

If such an outrage as the assault on the Union party state convention were to be perpetrated in Russia, the manhood of the civilized world would cry out against it.

The riotous raid on the Union party convention in Philadelphia was a back-breaking blunder. The mendacity of the desperate machine never was more vividly shown than in its stupid attempts to lie itself out of this disgraceful affair. The absurd statements sent forth are too much for honest newspaper proprietors; hence their general refusal to print the false account. The fact is the people would scarcely believe the complete story of criminal doings that might be told. And this was but the beginning. These outlaws are planning still worse things. But the end of their wicked work is near.

One hundred thousand Independent Republican votes for Pattison is considered a low estimate at this hour and the rebellion against Quayism is growing stronger every day. Spread the facts. See that your Republican neighbor reads the story of Pennypacker's service to the boss. It shows why he was picked out to fool the people. But the game won't work. The mask has been torn off and cannot be replaced.

The Winona boys did well with their dance at Shawnee Park Saturday night. There were several things worked against them however. the greatest of which was the delay in reaching the Park. A break in the feed wire blocked travel on the trolley, and it was nine o'clock when the Catawissa Band, which furnished the dance music reached the pavilion. A little later a heavy rain set in, which it is believed kept many away who would otherwise have attended. The boys, however are very grateful for the generous patronage, and wish to thank all those, who by their presence and support helped to make the event a success. Everybody was delighted with the music. The Catawissa Band can consider itself engaged when the Winonas hold another dance. The proceeds, after all expenses had been paid amounted to about thirty-five dollars.

Centennial Souvenir Book.

The Centennial Souvenir Book of Bloomsburg and vicinity is an artistic publication containing nearly fifty fine half-tone pictures. Among them are public buildings, churches, streets, views near town, and at Catawissa, Rupert, Orangeville, Briarcreek, Central, and other points. The price is only 25 cents, and it ought to be in every home. You can get nearly fifty pictures for the price of one photograph. For sale at the COLUMBIAN office.

Sullivan, Harris and Woods, the proprietors and managers of Theo. Kremer's powerful melodrama, "The Fatal Wedding," claim that this company which will be seen at the Opera House tonight is in many respects the most evenly balanced that has ever been exploited by them. Nothing but words of praise have come from those cities where it was presented last season and the performance of the little lady who enacts the part of Jessie —the little mother—has been universally pronounced a masterpiece of artistic child acting. There are no weak points in the cast, and even in some of the minor parts are to be found people who have appeared only in stellar roles before the public, but who are destined to speedy return to that eminence. The production is complete in every detail.

Local talent will hold the boards at the Opera House during fair week. The young men who have given several successful minstrel performances in the past few years, are at the head of the entertainment, and they promise something new. A number of the latest popular ballads will be illustrated including, "I'll Wed You in the Golden Summer Time," "A Castle of Wasted Hopes" and "Way Down in Old Indiana." The attendance at the Opera House during fair week is always large, and those who wish to see the show had better secure seats at Bidleman's in advance.

For the annual encampment, G. A. R., the Lackawanna Railroad will sell round trip tickets to Washington, D. C., at rate of one fare. Tickets will be sold October 4th to 7th, and will be good for return leaving Washington up to October 14th. Upon payment of fifty cents additional return limit will be extended to November 3rd. Stop-over will be allowed at two points in each direction. Special excursion fares will be granted from Washington to nearby battlefields. For full particulars see nearest Lackawanna agent. 25-2t

LOCAL NEWS OF 1865.

What Happened in Bloomsburg Thirty Seven Years Ago.

The following items are taken from The Star of the North, dated October 25, 1865, and published by William H. Jacoby, father of Guy Jacoby.

Capt. Brockway, having accepted an invitation, has gone to Trenton, New Jersey to deliver a speech to the Democracy of that state.

The late appearance of the Star this week, is caused by the death of one of the relatives of the editor of this paper, a more extended notice of which will be seen in another column.

All persons who are fond of a good cigar can be accommodated at the establishment of Mr. H. H. Hunsberger, on Main street. He also keeps on hand an excellent article of chewing tobacco.

The War Department has issued an order to the effect that no person shall hereafter be arrested who has deserted from or failed to report under any of the drafts.

Mrs. E. W. Wynkoop will commence her winter term of school on Mouday, the 30th of October, at her residence on Third street. Mrs. W. enjoys the reputation of being an excellent teacher. Her schools are well attended. Terms reasonable.

The citizens of Centralia, this county, held a meeting a few evenings since for the purpose of taking steps towards having that town incorporated into a borough. The object seemed to meet with little or no opposition.

William Stetter, Constable of Conyngham township, who shot a man not long since while in the act of making an arrest, was released from custody upon giving bail in the amount of $3,000 for his appearance at our next term of court.

DEATH—On Tuesday morning last Mr. Heman A. Prentis, of this place, died of Chronic Diarrhea and Typus Fever, which he contracted while in the army. He was confined to his bed over three weeks, when he was relieved of his suffering by death He was in the nineteenth year of his age. The deceased was a son of the late Noah S. Prentis, and brother-in-law of the Editor of the Star. His remains were accompanied to the grave by a military escort and buried with the honors of war. Peace to his ashes.

It is quite interesting to note the great difference in cost of necesaries of life at that time and now. Money must have been more plentiful in those days, and wages higher. Just look at the price of things:

Strike Situation Growing Serious.

The great coal strike is apparently growing more serious with each succeeding day. Wild scenes of disorder marked the last forty-eight hours in the coal mining towns of Luzerne county. Additional troops have been called out to sustain the law's majesty. Soldiers are now encamped in every valley and the army is the largest on duty since the Homestead strike of 1892. The state troops in the field, their location in the strike regions and the number of men in each organization are as follows: Lackawanna county, Thirteenth Regiment, 580; Luzerne county, Ninth Regiment, 700; Schuylkill county, Eighth Regiment, 500, Fourth Regiment, two companies, 110, Second Cavalry Troop of Philadelphia, 62; Carbon county, Twelfth Regiment, Second Batalion, 280; Governor's Troop, 57; Lebanon county, Twelfth Regiment, First Batalion, 290. Total 2579.

The Ninth Regiment was added to the force yesterday, and it is understood that the remaining eight companies of the Fourth Regiment will be ordered out today.

In the meantime coal is becoming scarcer. It is almost impossible to buy anthracite in the open market. What little there is for sale is gobbled up at rates ranging from $9, $15 and $20 per ton.

The second annual Reunion of the White Family will be held at Keiter's grove, Rupert, Pa., Saturday October 4th. Every relative is cordially invited to be present; please notify all the members of your family and urge them to come. Every effort is being made to insure a pleasant time and a large number will undoubtedly attend. In case the above day should be stormy the reunion will be held Saturday October 11th.

Bloomsburg's Great Fair.

The 48th Annual Fair of the Columbia County Agricultural Society will be held at Bloomsburg, Oct. 7, 8, 9 and 10, 1902.

Nothing is being spared by the management to make this the best fair of all.

This is the great annual reunion of old friends. Your friends will expect to meet you at the fair.

Large purses are offered in speed program.

Novel and up-to-date attractions secured.

Wednesday's races will be 2.21 class pace, 2.22 trot 2.40 class for county horses. Thursday 2.17 pace, 2.27 trot and 2.08 class trot or pace, Friday 2.13 pace, 2.17 trot and 2.25 pace.

The outlook is very encouraging for an exceedingly large exhibit in all classes. Special rates and excursion trains on all railroads. Look for schedules at your nearest station.

Revival Services.

With the coming Sunday revival services will begin in the M. E. church, and will be continued for at least one month. Rev. L. H. Baker of Delaware, O., will conduct the meetings for the first week. He will be assisted by a chorus choir of some fifty voices. Rev. E. S. Dunham, also of Delaware, O., will reinforce the work after the first week. These visiting brethren are experienced pastors and eminently successful revivalists, knowing how to rightly divide the word of truth. To afford all who wish an opportunity to hear them, all of the services will be held in the auditorium. W. M. FRYSINGER, Pastor.
